Schools

MISSION

APPLE Schools will inspire and empower school communities to lead, choose, and be healthy by recommending and supporting measurable and sustainable changes.

APPLE Schools is a school health promotion project in western Canada proven to change health outcomes in schools. The project works with vulnerable school communities to impact students' healthy eating, physical activity, and mental health habits in a cost-effective manner.

Each year, APPLE Schools improves the health of more than 20,000 students in 70 schools across northern Alberta, Manitoba, and the Northwest Territories.
